Featured Keynote

Todd Hunt looks like a pleasant, buttoned-up corporate type. But when he opens his mouth, audiences reel with laughter. His stories and examples, delivered with the sly wit of a seasoned comedian, stick with you long after his program.

As an executive at Ogilvy & Mather, one of the world's largest advertising agencies, Todd learned the "inner workings" of communication. Additional jobs with an insurance administrator, direct marketing company and ad department of a major retailer confirmed what he had suspected all along — we all mess up communicating!

Then he started his own successful marketing agency in Chicago. Working with trade associations, retailers, non-profits and financial companies, Todd sold insurance, credit accounts, trade shows, seminars, theater tickets, memberships and other products and services to consumer and business audiences.

Back by Popular Demand

The annual silent auction returns in 2023 after an extended break. The proceeds from this event support our Dinē Barclay Scholarship. This scholarship sends an individual with a disability and/or their family member to the National APSE conference. If you'd like to donate an item to support the auction, please email alabamaaapse@aol.com so we can register

Consumer Involvement

Alabama Council on Developmental Disabilities

The Alabama Council on Developmental Disabilities makes it possible for Alabama APSE to offer sponsorships to this year's conference for individuals with disabilities and/or their family members. These limited sponsorships provide registration to the event and a hotel room for 2 nights (double—quad occupancy). Preference is given to individuals that have not previously received sponsorship to this event. To request sponsorship for yourself and up to 3 guests, please click on link below. Those selected will be notified by May 20, 2023.

Project | SEARCH[®]

The Alabama Project SEARCH team has added a track to this year's conference for staff who support Project SEARCH programs across the state.

This breakout track will follow the opening keynote on Thursday that will feature Alabama's National Project SEARCH liaison, Ms. Cindy Burns. Throughout her career, Cindy has developed many partnerships with local employers, served on several community boards and committees, and is a graduate of Leadership Savannah. Her community involvement and relationship building led to extensive job creation for people with disabilities. She has been an APSE member for almost 20 years and has promoted Employment First with legislators at the state and federal levels through advocacy and testimony at legislative hearings. She serves on the National APSE board as the Southeast Delegate and is a member of the Membership Committee. Cindy has presented at local, national, and international conferences on topics such as Job Development, Transition from School to Work, and Person-Centered Practices. Cindy will be joined by members of Alabama's Project SEARCH State Team who will highlight Alabama's successes since the launch of this program in 2012.

The breakout track will only be open to those working or supporting one of Alabama's Project SEARCH programs.

A Night At THE

A Little Bit Country
