This year's APSE conference is returning to the Port City of Mobile in June. Mobile is described as funky, feisty and festive. This town can be called a lot of things with its vibrant 300-year history with lots of stories to tell and long standing traditions celebrated on a regular basis. Once called the Paris of the South, Mobile has a long been the cultural center of the Gulf Coast and all find an authentic experience like nowhere else in the southern United States. Alabama APSE agrees! Since the late 1990's this city has welcomed thousands of attendees for many state APSE conferences and also the national APSE conference in 2005. We expect nothing less this year. Make sure to book your room early so can enjoy the spectacular views of Mobile Bay and have endless opportunities to network with colleagues and also make new connections.
